

Jesus walked here.....
Between these Cedars of Lebanon, as mentioned in the Bible.

View of mountains, directly above the Cedars of Lebanon.
These mountains are 9,800 feet (3,000 meters) above the Mediterranean Sea level.

These Cedar trees are more than 5,000 years old and are approximately 6,500 feet (2,000 meters) above the Mediterranean Sea level, & 40 minutes from the Ditch Witch Middle East Office.

Cedars of Lebanon

Lebanon is a mountain, which throughout history, was covered by these majestic Cedar trees.

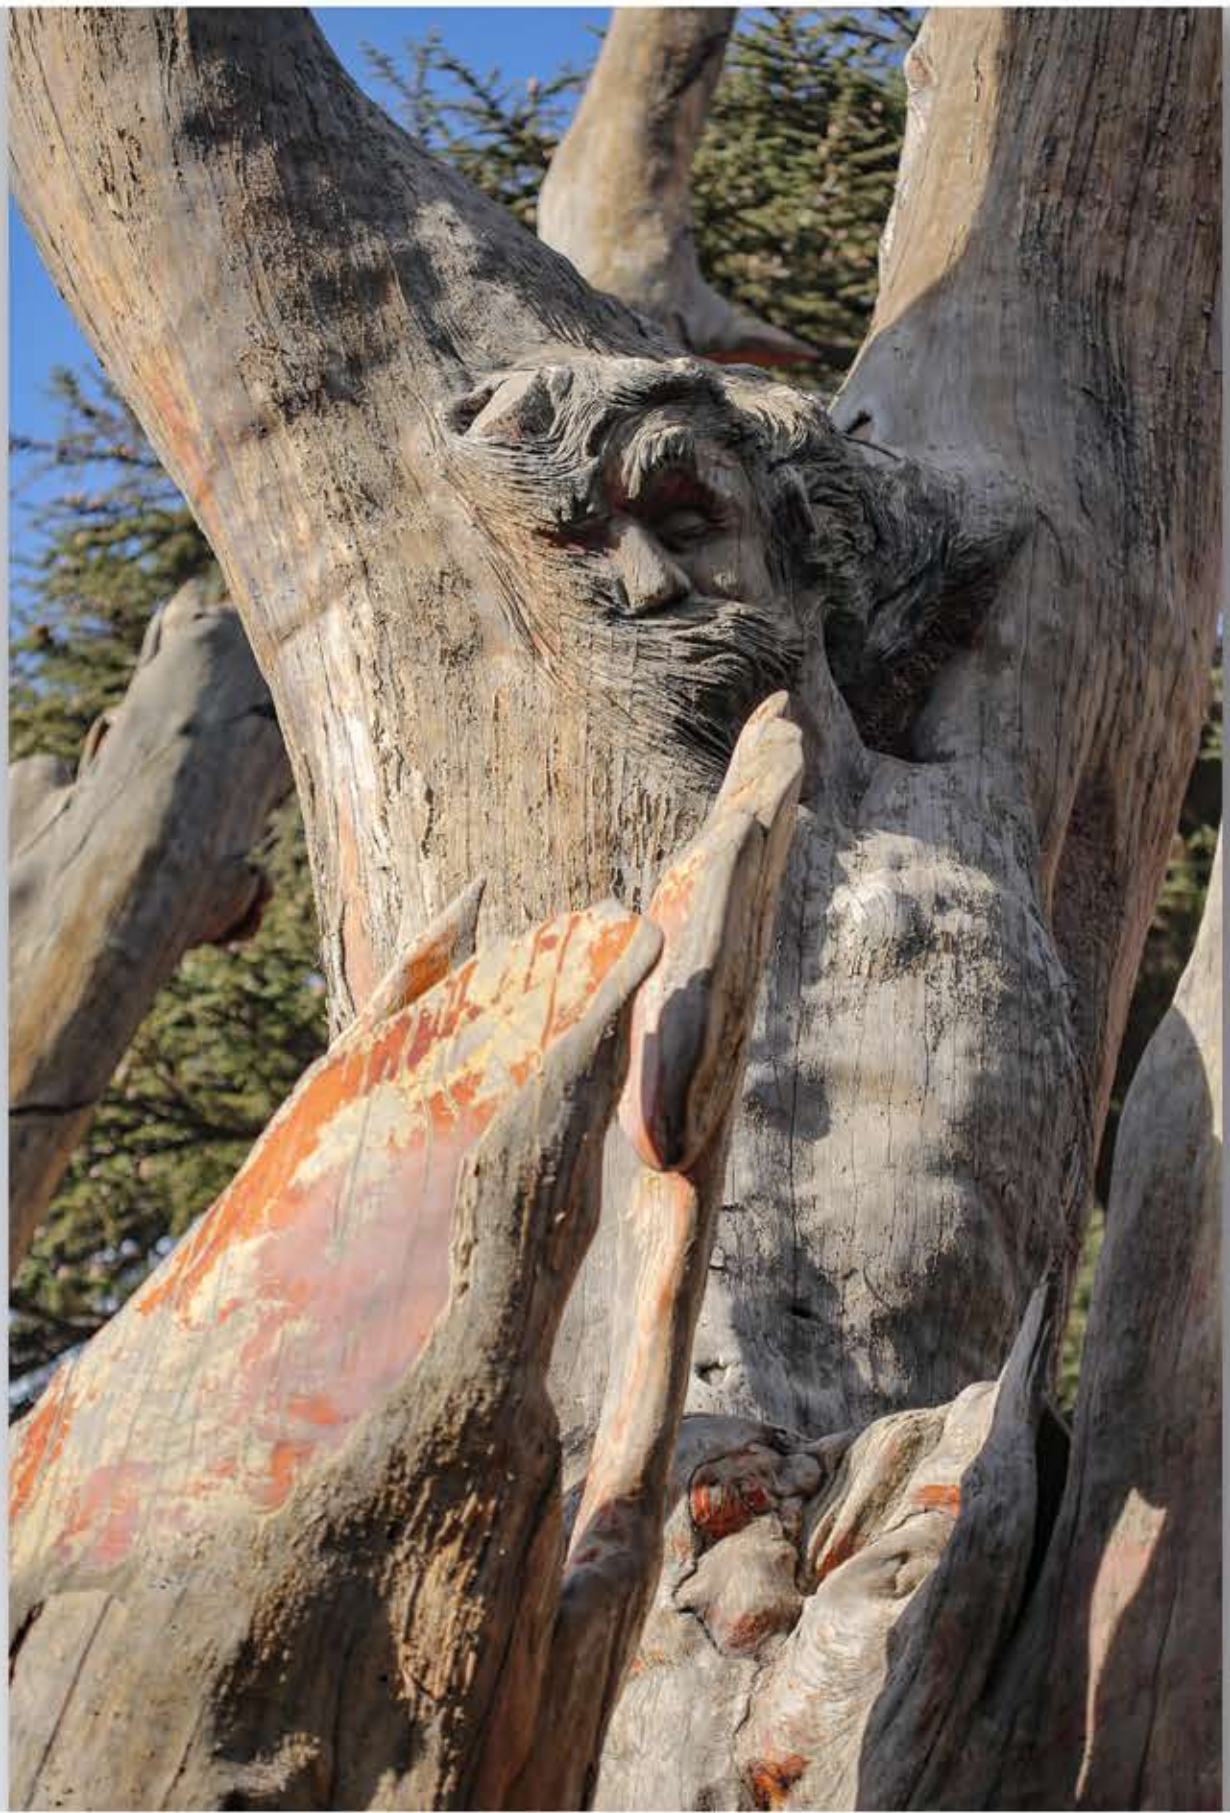

These few trees, and a few similar patches, are all that remain after centuries of decimation by the indigenous people, the Phoenicians, and conquerors who came through Lebanon, some of which included: The Romans; Greeks, Egyptians; Persians; Ottomans; & others.

See our website at www.DitchWitch.me to learn what the cedar wood was used for, throughout the centuries.

Cedar tree that died
and a Lebanese artist carved in it, images of Jesus

Largest Cedar tree in the world, of more than 75 feet (23 meters) in circumference

Cedar tree seeds

Merry Christmas
2021

Mount Lebanon

Jamey Shaheen & Team

Photos by Tony Doumith
Ditch Witch Middle East
Electronics Specialist